HONOLULU, TERRITORY OF HAWAII, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1902

PRICE 5 CENTS.

SAYS SHE WAS UNDER A HOUSE

Maggie Place Makes Her Appearance On Street.

CLAIMS SHE WAS IN CUSTODY OF CHILTON

WAS THREE MONTHS IN A CELLAR—H. CHILTON ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF KIDNAPING.

Maggie Place, the young part-Hawaiian girl who has been successfully hidden away for three months despite the efforts of the police to find her, and causing her old mother terrible fear and mental anguish, was finally found in the street this morning by Mrs. Place and young H. Chilton was immediately arrested on the charge of kidnapping.

It will be remembered that about three months ago young Chilton and Maggie Place were arrested on a charge of fornication, Mrs. Place swearing to the complaint. Chilton appeared in the Police Court, but Miss Place, although the case was continued from time to time, never put in an appearance.

The prosecution and even Judge Wilcox himself at the time, intimated that the girl was being hidden away by Chilton but all the efforts on the part of the police to locate the missing girl were unsuccessful. After the case had been continued a great number of times, the prosecution finally entered a nolle prosequi and the matter was apparently dropped.

In the meantime, the girl's mother continued by all the means she could to locate the missing girl. Rumors about her whereabouts were numerous, Kathi especially being given as the place where the girl was hidden, but the rumors on being traced out led to no result.

One can imagine Mrs. Place's astonishment and joy when this morning she met her daughter on Fort street. The old lady immediately rushed up to her long lost daughter and, conducted her to the police station where the young girl told the story of how she was threatened with her life by her lover had been hidden in the cellar of his father's house on Miller street near Beretania, in close proximity to the very center of the city.

Miss Maggie Place is a comely three-quarter white girl about fourteen years of age. Some time ago, she met young Chilton and apparently became fascinated with him. After they had been acquainted for some time, the Police Court affair occurred, followed by the girl's mysterious disappearance. Despite the search of the officers and the distracted mother, she was not found.

Judge Wilcox advised young Chilton to induce his father to let the girl appear. Chilton Sr., was apparently much put out by this statement and at the time threatened to institute a suit on account of it, but he never did so.

Maggie Place this morning told High Sheriff Brown that she had been hidden in the cellar under the Chilton house during the entire time of her absence.

She was well supplied with food and other necessities of life but was not allowed to leave the place. She states that young Chilton threatened that he would blow her brains out if she ever dared to leave her place of imprisonment and so impressed was the young girl with his threats that she never dared disobey him and resigned herself patiently to her fate.

Finally, this morning, the young man, who had evidently grown tired of the girl, went to and told her that she could leave the place. He told her further that he wanted her to go out on the principal thoroughfares of the city and show herself to people in order that she might be seen and placed in custody by the police.

How the girl met her mother on Fort street and was taken by her to the police station, has been told. Young Chilton was arrested immediately this forenoon on the charge of kidnapping. The punishment for this crime is a severe one, being two years' imprisonment at hard labor, or $500 fine or both in the discretion of the court. Chilton's bail was put by the High Sheriff

Honolulu's First Cable

Honolulu, represented by a crowd, witnessed its first underground electric cable laying this forenoon. It was part of the great event, longed for by Hawaii the past twenty years, of submarine telegraphic communication with the outside world. Session after session in that period the Legislature voted long-term subsidies up to $20,000 a year for the boon that now it obtains free of cost.

Governor Dole visited the scene of initial operations in King street at the Young building. He asked intelligent questions of the experts directing the work. Robert Lewers, W. W. Hall, Senator Dickey, Andrew Brown, W. E. Brown, D. G. Camarino, W. M. Minton, H. C. Austin, John Lucas and other citizens, together with reporters, were among the curious throng.

Thomas Trebell, conduit engineer of the Pacific States Telegraph and Telephone Company, directed the operations of laying. L. G. Martin, representing the Okonite Manufacturing Company of New York which made the land cable now being laid, was present to supervise the splicing by a staff of skilled workmen. J. D. Gains, superintendent of the Pacific Commercial Cable Company's station in Honolulu, also watched the operations.

Mention was made in this paper

some days ago of the laying of the conduits to receive the cable, which was supervised by M. G. King, a civil engineer. These are galvanized iron pipes connecting with manholes at irregular distances apart, the first link being from the Young building to Alaheka street. The cable was brought to the starting point upon a derrick. There were two spools, each containing a half-mile length and weighing 7,000 pounds, which were prepared for the unreeling by being raised upon standards fitted with bushing to engage their spindles. As stated in the former mention of the conduits, a wire was laid within the pipes. The first thing done this morning was to draw a stout hawser of hemp through the first section of pipe by means of the wire. To the ends of the two cables one end of the hawser was shackled with wires and a deadeye, the fastenings being wrapped with gunny sack cloth to prevent scratching. At the next manhole the rope was passed with three or four turns around the shaft of a double-crank windlass. Four men were placed at the cranks, with a fifth to take care of the rope. Two men tended each spool, two more saw to the even paying in of the cables, while a skilled mechanic did duty in the manhole. It took less than ten minutes to lay the first section of more than 200 feet. The tension was sufficient to keep the cables perfectly taut.

One of the land cables is for the service between here and San Francisco, the other for that between here and Manila relayed at Guam. They are distinguished apart, for purposes of repairing any faults that may occur in either, by one of them having a slight ridge in the lead covering while the other has a perfectly smooth surface. Mr. Trebell stated to a Bulletin reporter that the laying of the land line to Sans Souci, where the submarine cable landing station is situated, would be completed within two weeks. The distance is five miles. At every manhole the cable is cut and the ends of the sections spliced within a leaden jacket, which makes the joint hermetically sealed.

ISAAC NOAR, CANDIDATE

The following has been offered the Bulletin with a request for publication:

"Since the announcement of Mr. Isaac Noar's candidacy, his friends have flocked to his side and his boom is rapidly increasing.

"Mr. Noar appreciates the sacrifice it is necessary for him to make to accept the position, if tendered him, but has decided that in view of the hard work his friends are doing for him and the enthusiasm with which his candidacy was greeted, that he would be wrong to allow his private interests to stand in the way of the Public Good, and has filed his application for the position with the Governor and the Republican Central Committee, which latter it is understood are unanimously in his favor, believing it to be the best solution of the deadlock which now exists."

MAY BE RIFLE MATCH

Among the officers and the crew of the British war vessel Shearwater, which is at present in port are quite a number of crack rifle shots. Gunner Pook, for instance, is one of the champions of the British Navy, he having won numerous prizes and medals at various shooting contests in different parts of the globe. The last one in which he took part was at Victoria, B. C. He secured the first prize although there were a number of excellent shots among the local riflemen.

The Shearwater people are quite anxious to get up a rifle competition with some local team to prove their powers.

Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth was spoken to about the matter this morning at once expressed his desire to arrange a contest of this kind and said it was his intention to get up a team from among the local riflemen, which team could contest with the Shearwater men under the name of the All-Honolulu.

The doors of the Opera House will be opened at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon for the Elks' Memorial and the services will begin promptly at 3:30 o'clock. There will not be a minute's delay and all those who intend to go are asked to be in the house before the commencement of the services so that there will be no disturbance whatever.

Mitchell Congratulates Kuhio

Committee on Coast Defenses,
United States Senate,
Washington D. C.,
November 15, 1902.
Honorable Jonah Kuhio Kalaniana'ole, Delegate to Congress-elect, Honolulu, Hawaii.
My Dear Prince Kuhio:—You do not know how very much gratified I am personally to learn of your election to Congress, and I hasten to extend my most cordial congratulations to you and your good wife, the Princess.
You and the Republican party have certainly won a great victory, and it has created quite a sensation in the Mainland. You will be received with open arms by the Republican majority in the House and Senate and, I am quite sure, by reason of your affiliations with the party in power, you will be able to accomplish much for your Territory.

I am,
Yours very sincerely
JOHN H. MITCHELL.

SIR ROBERT BOND, PREMIER OF NEWFOUNDLAND.

In negotiating a reciprocity treaty with the United States Sir Robert Bond, Premier of Newfoundland, brings to successful termination efforts which were begun twelve years ago. The treaty will be presented to Congress for ratification early in the coming season.

SAVANNAH IS ALL RIGHT

A letter dated November 23 from H. J. Moore, formerly well known here as interested in the Gilbert Island trade with Claus Spreckels and now at Apia, Samoa, says:
"A surveyor has been down on Savannah measuring land for the past six weeks. He has been up in the bush near where the volcano has burst out. He does not think much of the volcano but says the accompanying earthquakes shook him up some. He is pursuing his surveys just the same to within six or seven miles of the crater. No disturbance was felt on the south side of Savannah the earthquakes being all local and confined to the north side."

WRIGHT IN DEFAULT.

Deputy Attorney General Cathcart has filed a motion for default in the civil suit of the Territory against Wm. H. Wright personally and as Treasurer of the Territory, for recovery of the amount of his delinquency. The usual certificates of summons not served and appearance not made are appended to the motion.

Since 1858 the number of lunatics in Scotland has increased by 180 per cent, while the population increase has been only 49 per cent.

PEOPLE ON THE NIPPON HAS

The Toyo Kisen Kaisha steamship Nippon Maru arrived from the Orient last night at about 6 o'clock. She had an uneventful trip from Yokohama with fine weather, but a heavy swell. Among her through passengers is P. H. Ashmead, an engineer who has been employed in building the Brice Syndicate's railroad from Hankow to Canton.

Mrs. Hayward Hayes is a Danish lady, the wife of the Surgeon General of the Siamese navy.

E. W. Poor, U. S. N., returns from duty as paymaster's clerk on U. S. S. Kentucky.

Captain D. N. P. Soltan is a Russian army officer who goes from duty at Vladivostok to a post in Turkistan.

Edward Barrett is a mining man. W. J. Schroth and J. Becker are tea merchants, and L. W. Smith has been engaged in the cannery industry in Siberia.

The Nippon Maru brought 900 tons of freight for this port and has a large cargo for San Francisco. She left Honolulu this forenoon at 11 o'clock.

KONA PLANTATION

The sale of the Kona plantation which has been so extensively advertised, has been indefinitely postponed, there being no bidders. When seen about the matter this forenoon, Judge Humphreys, who represents Bishop & Co., bondholders, stated that he was not surprised to hear of the postponement since he knew there were no bidders.

It is rumored that Jacob Cooper has offered to advance the money for the present needs of the plantation and that, in the meantime, he will make another visit to the Mainland to secure funds for the purchase outright of the sugar estate.

It is further rumored that this action on the part of Cooper has been brought about by the bright prospects of the Kona-Kau railway, work on which has already started. When this is once started and the sugar from the mill can be transported to the wharf in quick order and at a much reduced rate, it is believed that both the plantation and the railroad will boom.

Richard H. Trent is making up a party to visit the volcano over on Hawaii during the Christmas holidays, and concessions have been secured from the steamship companies and the hotels interested that will enable him to book a limited number of people for the trip at greatly reduced prices.

THE BULLETIN has added 616 new subscribers to its lists in the last three months.

INCORPORATED

M. P. EAKIN GETS CALIFORNIA CHARTER

GUNST-EAKIN CIGAR CO. WITH LARGE CAPITAL WILL OCCUPY NEW O'NEIL BUILDING.

The Gunst-Eakin Cigar Co. of California is the latest to enter the local field. During his recent trip to the Coast H. P. Eakin, associated with him in the new company, members of the well known firm of M. A. Gunst & Co. of San Francisco, as follows: M. H. Eaberg, H. L. Lachman, F. L. Galaby and A. A. Potter.

Articles of incorporation filed show that the company was formed for the following purposes:
"To engage in, conduct and carry on the business of wholesale and retail cigars, tobacco and smokers' materials in the Territory of Hawaii and to import the same. To manufacture, buy and sell cigars and smokers' articles in the said Territory and generally to deal in all kinds of merchandise."

"To buy, sell, mortgage, lease and generally deal in real estate, to borrow and lend money, purchase stocks and bonds in other corporations; to operate, conduct and manage stores in the Territory of Hawaii; to buy, own, mortgage, pledge, hypothecate and otherwise deal in personal property of all kinds, character and description."

The term for which said corporation shall exist shall be fifty years. "That the number of directors or trustees of said corporation shall be five."

The directors for the first term and until the regular election are as above named with H. P. Eakin as manager. The capital stock is $50,000, divided into 500 shares of one hundred dollars per share.

The Gunst-Eakin Co. will deal in all the goods handled by the M. A. Gunst Co. of San Francisco, which is enabled to buy the output of whole factories and has lately started a factory of its own in New York where a new brand of clear Havana known as the "Van Dyke" is being made.

The new O'Neil building, now in process of erection at the corner of Fort and King streets, has been leased by the company for a term of years and will be occupied not later than July 1 of the new year.

McCANDLESS TO COAST

J. A. McCandless left hurriedly in the steamer Hongkong Maru yesterday noon, having agreed previously with the steamship people here to pay the $200 penalty which the steamers of foreign lines are made to hand over whenever they take a passenger from this port direct.

Mr. McCandless is bound for Seattle, Washington, and not for Honolulu. D. C. J. S. McCandless, was seen this afternoon with reference to the trip of his brother and he stated that the reasons for his going were purely of a business nature. The McCandless Brothers own coal mines in the State of Washington and it is on business in connection with these that takes Mr. McCandless away.

DAVIS GETS FEE WITH A ROAST

Appeal Dismissed With Regret By Supreme Court.

CHIEF JUSTICE FREAR WRITES SEVERE OPINION

CONSIDERS THE ATTORNEY WANTED TO REPRESENT TWO SIDES OF CASE AT ONCE.

Chief Justice Frear is author of a unanimous opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Libano de Nobrega vs. Sylvano de Nobrega. It is an appeal from the order of Judge Gear awarding $1000 counsel fee to George A. Davis out of the $5000 alimony decreed, by direction of the Supreme Court as reduction from $10,000, to the libellant in the divorce case above entitled. The reduction mentioned was a second one, the original award being one-half of the libellee's real estate.

Mr. Davis moved that the appeal be dismissed on the ground that it was taken through other counsel without a change of counsel of record. In passing the Supreme Court says the appeal was signed by Mrs. Nobrega in person. Mr. Davis also argued that the fee was not excessive. The court comments severely on his reference to professional ethics, saying in effect that his claim amounted to that of the right to represent two sides of a case at once. The interest of counsel in this matter was adverse to that of his client.

The court is obliged, however, to dismiss the appeal because no appeal lies in divorce cases. The appropriate method of redress would have been by exception or writ of error. "It is to be regretted," the opinion says, "that the case is not properly before us, as there is so much that would seem at first glance to be questionable in the matter."

Andrews & Andrade for the appellant; Davis in person.

REED FOUND GUILTY

The trial of William Reed for assault with a dangerous weapon, which began before Judge De Bolt yesterday afternoon, concluded with a verdict of guilty, with exceptions noted by Mr. Thompson for defendant, and sentence to six months at hard labor with payment of costs besides. The jury consisted of Geo. Fern, L. J. Nahora Hips, J. Oswald Lutted, Lot P. Fernandez, Caesar Vieira, Warren Bogle, Henry Hickey, A. K. Viera, Wm. L. Peterson, J. D. Cockett, B. S. Gregory and John Makanaea.

In the case of Cheong Kwai, convicted of assault upon a woman with a deadly weapon, L. Andrews accepted a pro forma denial of new trial and noted exceptions. Bail was fixed at $7,500.

Mr. Robertson called attention to the improper appearance on the calendar of Yamane for liquor selling. The man paid his fine in the District Court the day after conviction. The case was accordingly stricken off.

This afternoon Alphonse Abreu goes on his trial for illicit liquor selling. E. A. Douthett for prosecution; J. M. Vivas for defendant.

Before Judge Robinson, a motion for the court to direct a verdict for defendants is being argued in the case of S. Ahmi vs. Annie Waller et al. To the numerous array of counsel stated yesterday is to be added the name of C. W. Ashford for the plaintiff.

About 16,000,000 tons of freight are annually carried on the Ohio river, which has a length of 1,000 miles from Pittsburgh to Cairo.

News comes from Boston that a painting by Titian, dated 1543, has been found there in a shopkeeper's cellar.
